

Becoming an Outdoors- Woman

Mini-Workshop

July 13 - 15, 2018

Join us in celebrating 25 years of BOW in Montana with a weekend of self-discovery and outdoor exploration at beautiful Lone Pine State Park! This BOW is geared for women who may not be hunters and anglers, and who may be looking for different ways they can experience the outdoors.

Sara at 406-444-9948

Registration Process: Registration must be in mailed in. No walk-in or faxes will be accepted. Successful applicants will be notified with a letter of confirmation and directions to Lone Pine State Park. A waiting list will also be generated. Unsuccessful applicants will receive a full refund. Registration deadline is Monday, July 9th.

Lone Pine State Park is located on the crest of the hills just southwest of Kalispell. The overlooks feature breathtaking Flathead Valley vistas. On a clear day, you can see Flathead Lake, Big Mountain, Jewel Basin and into Glacier National Park. The park has a visitor center and pavilion and offers opportunities for all kinds of outdoor activities. A map with directions will be provided with your confirmation packet.

Lodging: Lodging is not provided at this workshop. Each participant will need to find their own lodging in Kalispell, the nearby communities, or campgrounds. However, rooms are available at Flathead Valley Community College on a first come basis. Please work directly with the college at reslife@FVCC.edu. The rooms are $50 a night if you bring your own sleeping bag and towels or $62 a night if linens are provided for you.

Food: You will need to provide your own breakfast, lunches, and snacks, but dinner will be provided by BOW for Friday and Saturday nights. There will not be time to go to town for lunch on Saturday so please bring your own sack lunch. You might consider a small cooler for breakfasts, lunches, and snacks.

Car Pool: If you are interested in car-pooling, check that box on the registration form. We will generate a contact list so you can make your own car-pool arrangements.

Contact Information: Montana Fish, Wildlife & Parks: (406) 444-9948. Hearing impaired use Montana Relay: 711 or 1-800-253-4091.

What to Bring: The weather in Montana can change very quickly so pack warm clothes and rain gear. Items to bring include: hiking boots or walking shoes, day pack, hat, sun glasses, sunscreen, insect repellent, flashlight or headlamp, and your phones or cameras for photography and geocaching.

SESSIONS

SESSION I – Survival Day Pack

We will talk about the essentials for your day pack that will help you in a survival situation.

SESSION II

Owl & Bat Hike – We are all invited to follow Derrick Rathe, Lone Pine Park Ranger, for a later evening hike at Lone Pine on Friday night. He knows where the owls (scary) are hunting for their evening meals and where the bats (creepy) will be flying. And he knows about the other critters that go bump in the night – lions and wolves, and bears, oh my. By the time we get back, we won't think of them as scary or creepy. This hike is optional.

SESSION III

Poetry & Creative Writing – Nancy Rose is a retired English teacher and published poetry author. As you sit in the beautiful scenery of Lone Pine she will help you capture your own thoughts and feelings, what you can touch, see, hear, and smell that morning. A copy of everyone's work can be generated for participants to take with them, contemplate and continue the process on future outings. Bring your own journal and a good writing utensil.

Native Plants – Kimberly Pinter is a long-standing member of the local native plant group and has established several native plant gardens. Both Lone Pine with its varied ecosystems and Owen Sowerwine Natural Area in the river bottom offer lots of options to see and identify native trees, bushes, grasses and flowers.

Birding – Derrick Rathe, Lone Pine Park Ranger, has an enthusiasm for winged critters from hummers to raptors and owls. He's been leading birding tours since early spring and knows the best places to see them all. Of all the classes offered, this is the one he enjoys sharing with people at Lone Pine. You might bring your own smaller binoculars and bird books if you have them.

Sketching & Water Color – Kathy Martin is a Hockaday Museum art instructor. She hosts many kinds of art classes and will now be teaching you how to 'look' as you sketch and then add color with watercolor colored pencils. If you have it, bring your own sketch book.

SESSION IV

Outdoor Journaling – Eliza Thomas teaches at Flathead Valley Community College in the Education department, but one of her many special talents is journaling – using all the senses she'll lead you through a myriad of ideas for recording thoughts and feeling while in one of the many peaceful yet striking sites at Lone Pine. Bring a writing journal of your choice along with pen and colored pencils.

Photography – KC Glasetter and Jean Pachke are retired teachers who together are enjoying their love of capturing the sights of the beautiful Flathead. There will be lots of explanations, suggestions, and tips. At the end, they will put your photos on the computer, so your work can be shared with everyone. Bring your own camera, whatever it is. Cameras on your phones are great.

Wild flowers – Julie Schairer is handling her family nursery and truck farm in the Bitterroot Valley. Her 'down to earth' flower walk will leave you ready to go out on your own. Ask all kinds of questions; she knows so much.

Book Club – Sandi Vashro can always find a book about Montana history and its people. This year we will be reading Evelyn Cameron, Photographer on the Western Prairie by Lorna Milne. She and her family settled among British expatriates raising polo ponies on the Powder River in eastern Montana. Documenting the 'harsh eastern Montana landscape' she became an 'extraordinary photographer'. We'll discuss the book and then move into recording your story. You are unique and special in all the world and you need to tell your story. You will need to purchase and read the book before coming to the workshop.

SESSION V

Track & Scat – Pat Allick is a science teacher, Bow Hunter Ed teacher, hunter, angler, and all around out-doors lady. She will be sharing with you her knowledge of the mammals, birds, and other creatures that we share the outdoors with. Finding both the tracks they leave on the moist soil and the scats that they deposit indiscriminately will help you key in on what was there before you.

Beginning Yoga & Meditation – Sunni Green teaches the practice of Iyengar Yoga and body conditioning at the SBG and Yoga Room for youngsters and adults. She is as her name indicates, always with a smile, a way to adapt a pose to your body's needs, and a genuine understanding of the physical and mental well-being of our bodies. Bring your yoga mat and appropriate clothing.

Flathead Valley Geology – Bonnie Streeter is a retired science teacher who has a wonderful reputation for teaching her students science in the outdoors. From the Lone Pine overlook, she'll explain the geological and glacial processes that formed the Flathead Valley from Glacier National Park to Polson on a terminal moraine.

Geocaching – Christina Relyea is an associate professor at FVCC teaching natural resources classes. She is an avid geocacher, having presented many classes. She will bring enough GPS units for everyone and will help you add a geocaching app to your phone.
