

Shot Placement

There are two preferable shot placements for the most humane and quick kill. One is a brain shot in the ear. The other is in the heart area. It is up to you to decide which shot to take. Even though bison are very large game animals it is possible to shoot through them.

Be sure of your target and what lies beyond it.